ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The authors would like to thank a number of individuals for their assistance in the conduct of this research. At RAND, we thank Bruce Hoffman, Maury Eisenstein, and Greg Jones for short papers written at the beginning of the project, and Ted Karasik, Brian Houghton, and Sergej Mahnovsky for longer papers for this study. Thanks also are due to John Pinder for providing data on computer incidents. We also thank Bart Bennett, Jim Dewar, Susan Everingham, Mike Hynes, Dave Kassing, Irv Lachow, and Tom Szayna for their comments over the course of the project and Terri Perkins and June Kobashigawa for their administrative support. We also thank Mike Hynes and Rick Brennan for their thoughtful reviews.

In the Army, we thank LTC Bob Everson, LTC Bob Snyder, and MAJ Joseph Gerard, who served as project monitors, Rich Rinaldo and Larry Heystek of Training and Doctrine Command, and LTC Barbara Goulet, of the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff, Operations and Plans.

In the office of the Director of Military Support (DOMS), U.S. Army, we would like to thank COL Jay Steinmetz, USAF, and CPT Todd Burton, USA. For providing us with relevant data, we also thank Richard Kaplan of the Land Information Warfare Activity; MAJ Mark Lessig, USA, of Army Program Assessment and Evaluation; Laurie McCray, 3d Chemical Brigade at the Army Chemical School, Fort Leonard Wood; Joe Reap of the State Department's Office of Counterterrorism; and A. Heather Coyne of the Office of Management and Budget.
