EDUCATION

B.A., American Studies, 1972, Goucher College, Baltimore, Maryland.
M.A., C. Phil. Sociology, 1979, University of California, Los Angeles, California.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

2013 – Present Chair, RAND Human Subjects Protection Committee
2002 – Present RAND Senior Behavioral Scientist and Senior Director of RAND's Survey Research Group.
Also serve on RAND Ethics and Compliance Committee
1994 – Present Core Professor, Pardee-RAND Graduate School (Research Methods).
1986 – 2002 RAND Behavioral Scientist and Director of RAND Survey Research Group.
1972 – 2002 RAND Behavioral Scientist and Survey Coordinator and Survey Director in RAND Survey Research Group.
1970 – 1972 Research Assistant, Department of Behavioral Sciences, The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland.

CURRENT RESEARCH PROJECTS

Evaluation of California Statewide Mental Health Prevention and Early Intervention Initiatives (Co-PI)
CalMHSA-funded multi-year evaluation of 26 PEI projects funded under Proposition 63 each of which involves multiple activities; tasks include development of evaluation framework, conducting evaluation in cooperation with funded projects, and providing technical assistance to projects.

Long-Term Vulnerability Assessment and Adaptation Planning for the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission Water Enterprise (Co-PI). Project to assist San Francisco PUC to engage experts to interpret climate models as an aid to distant future water planning under deep climate uncertainty.

PAST PROJECTS

Evaluation of the Adequacy and Effectiveness of the Common Rule Protections for Human Subjects (PI).
NIH-funded project in collaboration with Scripps Translational Sciences to develop an evidence base to enable assessment of changes that may take place under implementation of the Revised Common Rule.

Physician Value in Health Care (Co-PI) RAND internally funded effort led by Robert Brook to develop qualitative and quantitative methods to study physicians views of levels of waste in medical care, reasons, and possible solutions.

Training, Technical Assistance, and Capacity Building for California County Mental Health Services (PI)
CalMHSA-funded multi-year effort to provide CA counties with support for conducting robust evaluations, using results effectively and communicating with stakeholders.

Adding Physician Identifiers to Hospital Discharge Data: Exploring Implementation in California (Co-PI) California HealthCare Foundation project to explore motivations for and barriers to adding and reporting physician identifiers on hospital discharge data in California.

Improving Decisions in a Complex and Changing World (Co-Investigator) NSF sponsored study of the use of robust decision-making approaches in long-term planning for water resources.

Healthcare Innovation Awards Evaluation Design (PI) CMS Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services funded project to collect data on over 100 grantees implementing innovative new projects, design an evaluation of the projects, and provide technical assistance for self-monitoring by grantees.

RAND Interstitial Cystitis Epidemiology Study (PI) Six year NIDDK-funded cooperative agreement to estimate the prevalence of low frequency medical condition and describe its wide ranging impact on women who have it.

Sexual Orientation and U.S. Military Personnel Policy: An Update of RAND's 1993 Study, DoD funded project to update research on implementation and effects of Don't Ask, Don't Tell policy and the 1993 original study on same topic.

Morbidity Monitoring Project (PI) CDC funded project to assist in developing and managing a national HIV morbidity monitoring program based on probability sampling methods developed in the HCSUS study.

Caregivers Project (Co-PI) Funded by the National Institute of Nursing Research, this project uses qualitative methods to assess the similarity and differences among home caregivers for different medical conditions.

Reducing the Toll of Improvised Explosive Devices on U.S. Forces (Co-Investigator) – JIEDDO sponsored project to assist in evaluating approaches to reducing the threat of IEDs in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Sexual Acquisition and Transmission of HIV Cooperative Agreement Program (SATH-CAP) (Co-PI) National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) funded multi-year cooperative research program to support multi-disciplinary research seeking to better understand the dynamic behavioral, biological, and environmental processes implicated in the sexual transmission of HIV and other sexually transmitted infections among drug users and the diffusion of infections from drug using populations to non-drug using populations.

Evaluation Center for AHRQ Patient Safety Program (Co-investigator) Evaluation of AHRQ patient safety program using record abstraction, elite interviews, case studies, and questionnaires.

Survey of National Healing (PI) RAND-sponsored national random digit dial telephone survey about mental health and public opinion about terrorism, Sept. 14-16, 2001 focusing on immediate mental health consequences for U.S. population.

California Consumer Health Care Survey (PI) Random digit dial telephone survey about health information seeking and use of information about health and health care.

Cost of Cancer Treatment Study (Co-PI) NCI-sponsored multi-year study comparing cost of treatment for cancer patients who were and were not taking part in clinical trials.

Risk and Prevention Behavior in HIV+ Adults (Co-PI) Probability sample survey of sexual risk and prevention behaviors in HIV+ adults funded by NICHD.

HIV Cost and Services Utilization Study (Senior Study Director, Survey Director) Multi-wave national study of 2800 HIV positive adults using probability sampling. Involved computerized personal interviews, record abstractions, and collection blood samples. Included large research staff and data collection subcontract. Funded by AHCPR, HRSA, and other government and private sector funder.

Refractive Error Functioning Measures (PI) NEI- funded to develop and test a measure of functioning for comparing various forms of correction for refractive error.

Developing a Measure of Low Vision Functioning (PI) NEI funded study to develop and test a measure of functioning for low vision patients, particularly for use in clinical trials.

Los Angeles Prostitute Survey (Co-Principal Investigator): Personal interview survey of 1000 prostitutes, selected using probability sampling method. Also requires collecting blood samples from participants and testing for HIV infection. Funded by NICHD.

Indonesian Resource Mobilization Study and Indonesian Family Life Survey (Survey Advisor): Two-wave personal interview survey of 6000 households in two provinces of Indonesia as part of a health system pricing experiment and national probability sample survey of 7000 households across the country.

Los Angeles County Study of General Population and Gay and Bi-Sexual Men: Knowledge, Attitudes, Beliefs and Behavior about HIV (Data Collection Manager) CATI Telephone survey of 1300 L.A. County adult residents and 300 gay and bisexual men obtained through random digit dialing.

Medical Outcomes Study (Director of Data Collection, Analysis Staff): Multi-year study of about 500 physicians and 2500 patients with chronic diseases. Data collection requires mailed and telephone (CATI) surveys of physicians and patients, maintenance of health diaries by patients, record abstraction, and conduct of physical examinations.

Compensation Outcomes Study (Survey and Analysis Staff): Large Random Digit Dial CATI survey screening people in households to identify people with accidental injury for further assessment of losses and compensation sought and received.

Los Angeles 2000 Community Survey (PI): CATI survey of 1500 Los Angeles area households to obtain views about community issues.

Strategic Decision-making Study (Survey Designer): Study of strategic decision-making in international crises using "scenario" techniques to survey former high-level government and military staff.

Consensus Development Program Study (Analysis Staff): Evaluation of NIH Program designed to provide information about medical technologies to physicians. Requires management of multi-phase data collection, including mailed surveys of physicians and sampling and abstraction of medical records.

Prescription Drug Information System (Analysis Staff, Survey Manager): Randomized field experiment testing effect of providing information to consumers about use of prescription drugs on knowledge, attitudes, and behavior.

Visual Environmental Adaptation Study (Analysis Staff, Survey Manager): Study to identify hazards in the everyday environment of people with vision problems. Prepared detailed case studies of 94 partially sighted adults, including interviews, optometric examinations, and tests of physical abilities.

Energy Consumption and Conservation Program (Analysis Staff): Multi-year study of the nature, causes, and potential solutions of U.S. energy problems with an emphasis on household energy conservation.

BERRY/4

Los Angeles Electricity Rate Experiment (Analysis Staff, Survey Manager): Experiment testing electricity rate structures. Required three waves of interviews with residential electricity customers (personal and telephone) and enrollment of 1800 customers in new electricity rate plans.

Household Energy Study (Survey Manager): Panel survey collecting data about energy use and typical energy costs for Los Angeles County residents. Required two waves of telephone interviews with 1000 households.

Housing Assistance Supply Experiment (Assistant Survey Manager): Large social experiment, conducted in two sites, using panel surveys with landlords, tenants, and observations of residential properties and neighborhoods.

Indicators of Justice Study (Survey Manager): Mail survey of 1200 witnesses of crimes, victims of crimes, and jurors carried out in two sites and qualitative interviews with county jail inmates and staff.
