

RESUME

C. K. Mallory IV

Senior International Defense Researcher
Director, Center for Global Risk and Security
The RAND Corporation

SUMMARY

C. K. Mallory is a Senior International Defense Researcher and Director of the Center for Global Risk and Security at the RAND Corporation. Previously, he was National Security Policy Coordinator for the presidential campaign of Ohio Governor John R. Kasich. He served as CEO of the Aspen Institute Germany (2007-13) and as the Senior Advisor to the Assistant Secretaries of State for Near Eastern Affairs Bill Burns, David Welch rom (2002-07). Mallory was CEO of Credit Suisse Investment Funds Moscow AO (1992-97) and was instrumental in the structuring and closing of numerous mezzanine and buyout transactions at Allied Capital (1997-02). Before joining the private sector in 1992, Mr. Mallory specialized in Russian and non-proliferation issues and was a research assistant, visiting fellow and assistant policy analyst at SIPRI, German Institute for International and Security Affairs (SWP) and RAND, respectively.

EXPERIENCE

| | |
|--|---------------|
| Director, Center for Global Risk and Security, RAND Corporation | 10/16 - |
| Coordinator, National Security Policy Advisory Group, Kasich for America | 07/15 - 07/18 |
| Chief Executive Officer, The Aspen Institute Germany | 08/07 - 07/13 |
| Senior Advisor, Bureau of Near Eastern Affairs at U.S. Department of State | 06/02 - 06/07 |
| Associate, Allied Capital Corporation | 01/98 - 01/02 |
| Chief Executive Officer, Credit Suisse Investment Funds Moscow AO | 07/92 - 07/97 |
| Director, Credit Suisse First Boston Investment Management Ltd | 07/92 - 07/97 |
| Assistant Policy Analyst, The RAND Corporation | 08/90 - 07/92 |
| Visiting Fellow, German Institute for International and Security Affairs (SWP) | 01/98 - 01/89 |
| Research Associate, Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) | 02/87 - 01/88 |

EDUCATION

| | |
|--|-------------|
| Pardee RAND Graduate School, PhD Candidate, Public Policy Analysis (ABD) | 1990 - 1992 |
| Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS), Master's Program | 1990 - 1991 |
| Middlebury College BA, Russian, Political Philosophy, Phi Beta Kappa (Jr. Yr), Summa cum laude | 1983 - 1987 |
| Westminster School, London, UK, 'A' Levels, Mathematics, Physics, German | 1977 - 1982 |
| Packwood Haugh Preparatory School, Ruyton-XI-Towns, Salop, United Kingdom | 1973 - 1977 |
| Gorch Fock Volksschule, Blankenese, Hamburg, Federal Republic of Germany | 1970 - 1972 |

LANGUAGES

English, Russian, German, French, Arabic, Python, C++

CURRICULUM VITAE

C. K. Mallory IV

Senior International Defense Researcher
Director, Center for Global Risk and Security
The RAND Corporation

SUMMARY

C. K. Mallory is a Senior Researcher and Director of the Center for Global Risk and Security at the RAND Corporation. Previously, he was National Security Policy Coordinator for the presidential campaign of Ohio Governor John R. Kasich. He served as CEO of the Aspen Institute Germany (2007-13) and as the Senior Advisor to the Assistant Secretaries of State for Near Eastern Affairs Bill Burns, David Welch and their (Principal) Deputy Liz Cheney from (2002-07). Mallory was CEO of Credit Suisse Investment Funds Moscow AO (1992-97) and participated in the structuring and closing of numerous mezzanine and buyout transactions at Allied Capital (1997-02). Before joining the private sector in 1992, Mr. Mallory specialized in Russian and non-proliferation issues and was a research assistant, visiting fellow and assistant policy analyst at SIPRI, SWP and RAND, respectively.

EXPERIENCE

Senior Researcher, Director Center for Global Risk and Security, RAND Corporation
October 2016 - Present

Current work on: Countering White Extremist Infiltration of the U.S. military. Studies on: Cross Domain Deterrence, Burdensharing (in publication), Measuring the Health and Strength of Ally and Partner Networks (in peer review). Work for U.S. Department of State on Countering DPRK Proliferation Finance Activities in Africa. Managing a private sector philanthropic board that finances a pipeline of futurecasting studies, including the internally funded "Security 2040" series of studies.

Coordinator, National Security Policy Advisory Group at Kasich for America
July 2015 - July 2018 (3 years)

Coordinated the Kasich for America National Security Policy Advisory Group (100+ members). Debate preparation, speech writing, and coordination, vetting, production and distribution of: Governors National Security Policy Briefing Book, Governor's Daily National Security Briefing, Future Years Defense Plan, and numerous (225+) ad hoc Strategy Papers, Briefing and Background Memoranda.

Chief Executive Officer at The Aspen Institute Germany
August 2007 - July 2013 (6 years)

Over his six-year tenure at Aspen Germany, Mallory re-branded the institute, turned around the organization, boosting its reputation, putting it on a financially sustainable footing and enriching the content offerings to stakeholders. Mallory raised over $7 million, increased board donations seventeen-fold and significantly strengthened the balance sheet. Rationalized the cost base. Convened a unique range of surplus-generating programs: The Aspen Seminar; The Aspen European Strategy Forum; Two “Track II” dialogues between North Korea and the USA on the DPRK nuclear program; a communications channel with the government of Iran on the nuclear issue; German, Austrian, Hungarian, British Foreign Ministers with their Balkan counterparts six times; and Afghan opposition leaders with senior leaders from the U.S. House of Representatives. Trained Iranian and Syrian political opposition for the U.S. Department of State. Negotiated a broadcast agreement with German national public radio (Deutschlandradio).

Senior Advisor, Bureau of Near Eastern Affairs at U.S. Department of State

June 2002 - June 2007 (5 years 1 month)

Mallory was a member of the front-office leadership team of the 5,000-person Near Eastern Affairs bureau. Responsibility for $4bn of the $18bn annual U.S. foreign assistance budget. Thoroughly reviewed, restructured, monitored $2bn U.S. foreign assistance program to Egypt. Participated in the negotiation, execution, and monitoring of a $1bn incentive program for Egyptian state-owned bank privatization. Participated in the conception, launch, funding and monitoring of $400M U.S. Middle East Partnership Initiative. Top-to-bottom review of the U.S. West Bank-Gaza foreign assistance program. Negotiated and U.S. Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice signed an Egypt-Morocco-U.S. Small Enterprise Investment Agreement. Coordinated a classified, inter-agency MENA political reform promotion effort. Conception, launch “Partnership for Financial Excellence” with Middle Eastern Finance Ministries, Central Banks. Represented the U.S. at two World Bank, IMF annual meetings and on numerous diplomatic missions. Coordinated and liaised closely with Foreign Affairs/Relations & Appropriations, Foreign Operations committees of the U.S. Congress.

Associate at Allied Capital Corporation

January 1998 - January 2002 (4 years 1 month)

Instrumental in the structuring, negotiation, closing and monitoring of numerous equity and subordinated debt transactions. Average transaction size of $11M. Overall IRR of 38% (3.6x). Garnered significant workout experience. Recruited and monitored management, screened, executed and monitored transactions for Allied Capital Germany LLC.

Chief Executive Officer, Credit Suisse Investment Funds Moscow AO

Director, Credit Suisse First Boston Investment Management Ltd

1992 - 1997 (5 years)

Launched first family of domestic mutual funds in Russia gaining an eighty percent market share. Point on the team that raised US$120M of US$200M Central European Growth Fund plc, participated in management. Assisted in the management of the US$50M EC Equity Derivative Portfolio Ltd., hedge fund. Organized the floatation of the US$30M The Infrastructure Fund, Ltd. Participated in the floatation and management of the US$20M Czech CS Voucher Fund.

In cooperation with Moscow Central Depository, Inc and the Sovershenno Sekretno Publishing Group

Assistant Policy Analyst at RAND Corporation

January 1990 - January 1992 (2 years 1 month)

Research for the U.S. Department of Defense on how to encourage private investment in Central Europe, Russia. Classified research project on the political outlook for Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Classified research project on possible scenarios by which Russia might reabsorb Ukraine. Classified research project on DPRK chemical weapons employment options vs. the ROK. Project for the Executive Officer of the U.S. Air Force tracking new political groups in Russia. Financed full-time study as a PhD candidate with RAND earnings.

Visiting Fellow at German Institute for International and Security Affairs (Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik) (SWP)

January 1988 - January 1989 (1 year 1 month)

Research on Soviet offensive chemical weapons employment doctrine. Co-authored and published what has become a standard work on the role of chemical weapons in Soviet military doctrine.

Research Associate at Stockholm International Peace Research Institute

February 1987 - January 1988 (1 year)

Background research on Soviet offensive chemical weapons employment doctrine. Translation for Valentin Mikhailovich Falin, International Department of the Central Committee of the CPSU and Col. General Nikolai F. Chervov, Head, Disarmament Directorate, General Staff of the Soviet Army.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Aspen Institute Germany

Member of the Board of Directors (honoris causa) August 2013 to Present
<http://www.aspeninstitute.de>

PROJECTS

The Quran: A Study Guide - Part I - The Early Meccan Surahs

July 2013 to Present, Members: C. K. Mallory IV

PUBLICATIONS

New Challenges in Cross-Domain Deterrence RAND Corporation, Santa Monica, CA, 2018, PE-259-OSD

The Role of Chemical Weapons in Soviet Military Doctrine: Military and Historical Experience 1915-1991 Westview Press, Boulder, CO 1992

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Joachim Krause

Chemische Waffen in der Militärdoktrin der Sowjetunion: Historische Erfahrungen und militärische Lehren 1919-1991 Nomos Verlag, Baden-Baden, Germany 1993

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Joachim Krause. German language version.

In cooperation with Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik.

Generously funded by the Volkswagen Stiftung.

Canadian Military Journal: The best work on the Soviet military and their chemical warfare capabilities during the Cold War. "Brad" TX Jul 17, 2014: This book is ... literally a one-of-a-kind book that is unfortunately very rare. A key piece of chemical warfare history, as well researched as could have been at the time of its writing.

Aiding Russian and Ukraine RAND Corporation, Santa Monica, CA September 1993

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Charles Wolf, Jr.

A series of policy recommendations for stimulating private investment in the post-Soviet space.

Perspectives on Economic and Foreign Policies RAND Corporation 1995

Authors: Charles Wolf Jr., C. K. Mallory IV

Chapter on assistance to Russia and Ukraine in a larger monograph by RAND Corporation's Dr. Charles Wolf, Jr.

Минфин начал охоту за "беглыми" капиталами
(The Treasury Has Started Hunting "Flight" Capital)

Газета Коммерсантъ, November 20, 1996

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Interview with Kommersant on the new MinFin bond floatation (in Russian).

Новый налоговый кодекс
(The New Tax Code)

Газета Коммерсантъ May 17, 1997

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Interview with "Kommersant" on the introduction of the new Russian tax code (in Russian).

Harvard Men Built Market, But Didn't Steer Clear of It Wall Street Journal August 13, 1997

Authors: Steve Liesman, Carla Ann Robbins, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview: The Wall Street Journal exposes conflicts of interest that vitiated the credibility of a $30 million non-competitive USAID grant made to Harvard University to provide assistance to economic reform in Russia. The U.S. Government subsequently sued Harvard for $120 million under the False Claims Act. After circa eight years of litigation, Harvard and its employees, in the largest fine paid in Harvard's history to that date, disgorged the entire $30 million back to the U.S. taxpayers. Andrei Schleifer remains a member of the Harvard University faculty.

West Buoyed by Mideast Reforms

Dawn - Pakistan March 7, 2005 Authors: Scott Carpenter, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview together with Scott Carpenter with Pakistan's DAWN on U.S. support to Middle East reformers through the U.S. Middle East Partnership Initiative.

PDAS Cheney's Meeting with GOE Minister of Investment

WIKILEAKS July 6, 2005 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Classified U.S. Department of State cable stolen and published by Wikileaks.

Fund "Will Cut Economic Burden"

Gulf Daily News - Bahrain November 12, 2005 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Interview with Bahrain's Gulf Daily News announcing the Fund for the Future on the occasion of the IMF- World Bank annual meeting.

Verzicht auf Kampfeinsätze

[Refrain from Military Intervention]

Die Zeit December 6, 2006 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

First administration response in the media to the Baker-Commission report on Iraq (in German).

An "Indecent Proposal" for Fayza

WIKILEAKS August 14, 2006 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Classified U.S. Department of State cable stolen and published by Wikileaks. Describes Mallory's and NSC's Pat Davis's failed attempt to induce Egypt to liberalize. The aim was to thwart a potential explosion of civil unrest. Administration policy makers feared instability in view of demographic pressure and failing economic and political development in Egypt. (The Arab Spring erupted five years later).

Foundation Representatives Discuss ME Projects w NEA Sr. Advisor Mallory

WIKILEAKS December 20, 2006 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

This classified cable describes a meeting with the German political foundations; it was subsequently stolen and published by Wikileaks. Publication of this information contributed to the instigation of legal proceedings on the part of the Egyptian government against (amongst others ...) the German political foundations.

Diese Generation ist eine Zeitbombe - Profile

[This Generation is a Time Bomb]

Der Tagesspiegel June 29, 2007 Authors: Caroline Fetscher, C. K. Mallory IV

Profiles Mallory on the occasion of his assuming leadership of Aspen Germany. Relays his earlier warning to the NATO Defense College in Rome concerning the potential for an explosion of civil unrest in the Arab World two and a half years before the Arab Spring (in German).

Towards a New Transatlantic Strategy Towards Iran and its Nuclear Program

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany 2008 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Olaf Böhnke

In cooperation with the Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung and the American Jewish Committee.

35 Jahre Aspen Institut Deutschland

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany 2008

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Russia and the West: How to Restart a Constructive Relationship

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany 2009 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Andrew Kuchins, Joachim Krause, Aleksandr Rahr, Benjamin Schreer

A series of policy recommendations for deepening cooperation with the Russian Federation.

In cooperation with the Deutsche Gesellschaft für auswärtige Politik, Center for Strategic and International Studies and the American Institute for Contemporary German Studies.

Iran: Supporting Democratic Reformers

The Aspen Institute Germany 2009

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Olaf Böhnke, Amin Azimi, Frangis Dadfar Spanta, Helena Zillich, Allison Morton, Justin Reynolds, Ramona Gottwald, Benjamin Schreer

In cooperation inter alii with the U.S. Department of State, Middle East Partnership Initiative (MEPI), Harvard University, Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs and Berkman Center for Internet and Society, Freedom House, Clovek v tísní, o.p.s (People in Need), Amman Center for Human Rights Studies, the German Bundestag, the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung, Sisters in Islam, Institute for War & Peace Reporting, and Radio Zamaneh.

International State-Building and Reconstruction Efforts:

Experience Gained and Lessons Learned

Barbara Budrich Publishers: Farmington Hills, MI 2010

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Joachim Krause

Lessons (un)learned from state-building efforts Iraq and Afghanistan.

Bush Program Laid the Groundwork in Egypt

Boston Globe February 13, 2011 Authors: Farah Stockman, C. K. Mallory IV

Declares the Bush administration vindicated in its push for regional democratization. Motivated by its fears of a potential explosion of political unrest in the Middle East and North Africa as a result of demographic pressure and arrested political and economic development. Describes the U.S. Middle East Partnership Initiative's contribution in directly funding Democracy activists in Egypt.

Aspen DPRK-USA Dialogue

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany March 2011

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Described by senior serving U.S. government officials as having provided an important impetus to renewed official DPRK-US negotiations leading to the ill-starred Feb 29, 2012 "Leap Day Agreement."

In Cooperation with The Committee for Human Rights in North Korea.

Generously supported by an anonymous Benefactor and BMW AG.

North Koreans Upbeat After Talks with Ex-U.S. Envoys

The Washington Post March 30, 2011 Authors: David Rising, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview after Aspen Germany convened the first of two DPRK-USA Track II dialogues on the DPRK nuclear issue.

Kooperation von Pakistan ist entscheidend [Pakistani Cooperation is Key]

German National Public Radio (Deutschlandfunk) May 4, 2011

Authors: Jasper Barenberg, C. K. Mallory IV

Live interview on German National Public Radio after Osama bin Laden's death (in German).

Darf eine Demokratie töten?

[Should a Democracy Kill?]

Spiegel TV May 5, 2011 Authors: Tatjana Berg, C. K. Mallory IV

Television interview shortly after the death of Osama bin Laden (in German).

Obama-Kritiker sind Schlaumeier ohne Verantwortung

[Obama's Critics are Irresponsible Smart-asses]

Cicero May 2011 Authors: Peter Knobloch, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview in response to criticism voiced in Germany that U.S. Navy SEALs were murderers who had broken international law in failing to arrest and then prosecute Osama bin Laden instead of killing him (in German).

The Strategic Implications of the Iranian Nuclear Program

Routledge, London, UK 2011 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Joachim Krause

Naval Review 2012: Covers the implications of Iran becoming a nuclear state, why it might want to become a nuclear power and how sanctions are affecting the country. Thérèse Delpech's chapter on how Iran has over the years tried to hide its activities from the international community...is a must-read...Short and to the point ... 183 pages ... ten chapters. Although there is some technical information ... one does not need to be a nuclear physicist to be able to benefit.

Afghanistan 2014: Opportunities & Challenges:
Members of the U.S. House of Representatives in Dialogue with Leaders from Northern, Western & Central Afghanistan

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany January 2012 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Non-Pushtun Afghan leaders and senior members of the U.S. House of Representatives issue a statement criticizing (i) the over-centralized Afghan constitution conceived at the 12/5/2001 Bonn I meeting as enabling corruption and concentrating too much power in the hands of the Afghan President; (ii) German-brokered negotiations between the U.S. and the Taliban taking place with the participation of Pakistan but without the participation of the Afghan government or leaders from other key Afghan political and civil society groups.

In cooperation with the Armed Services Committee and Sub-Committee on Government Oversight and Investigations of the Committee on International Relations, of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Statement of Islamic Emirate Regarding the Session Convened in Berlin Under the Orders of America

Augen Geradeaus January 17, 2012 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Building on critical remarks from Pushtun Afghan President Hamid Karzai, the Pushtun-dominated Afghan Taliban condemn Aspen Germany as an enemy of Afghanistan for convening a meeting in Berlin between senior members of the U.S. House of Representatives and non-Pushtun Afghan political leaders.

The Transatlantic Relationship in the 21st Century: Challenges and Opportunities

All Azimuth, Bilkent University, Center for Foreign Policy and Peace Research January 2012

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Examines opportunities for and challenges to transatlantic cooperation between Turkey, the EU and the USA in the Greater Middle East.

Aspen DPRK-USA Dialogue II

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany March 2012 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Provided a forum for unofficial bilateral exchanges in the midst of a crisis in the run-up to the DPRK's test of an inter-continental ballistic missile under the pretext of a test satellite launch.

In cooperation with the German Federal Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Generously funded by an anonymous Benefactor.

Informal N. Korea - U.S. Meeting in Germany

Yedioth Ahronot April 1, 2012 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Statement to the press on the occasion of the second Aspen Germany DPRK-USA Track II dialog on the DPRK nuclear program convened on the eve of a DPRK test launch of a rocket bearing a satellite payload.

The Greater Middle East and the Transatlantic Community

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany 2012 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Took stock of opportunities and challenges presented by the Arab Spring, the Iranian nuclear program and the stalled Peace Process in the Greater Middle East.

In cooperation with the Begin-Sadat Center for Strategic Studies.

Generously funded by the Robert-Bosch-Stiftung

Afghanistan, Pakistan and Strategic Change

Routledge, London, UK 2013 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Joachim Krause

A very timely contribution ... addresses three questions: 'What has gone wrong in the past with regard to Afghanistan and what strategic adjustments are needed?' 'Is Pakistan a strategic ally of the West, or has Pakistan become a strategic problem?' and 'What are the possible future scenarios and policy options, and what does strategic readjustment really mean?' ... Overall, the major contribution ... is in highlighting how little we as outsiders actually know about Afghanistan (and, to some extent, Pakistan). One key lesson from the book is that if we want to deal with the challenges relating to Afghanistan, we must get to know the country far better than we do currently. That will involve understanding the country in all its dimensions. It would be helpful if we tried to see the country as it is and not how we think it is – and, as the book highlights, there are major discrepancies currently between the two perceptions. (Click for Full Review).

In cooperation with the UK Foreign & Commonwealth Office and the Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung.

A Future Security Architecture for Southeast Europe

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany 2013

Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Valeska Esch, Juliane Kabus

In cooperation with

The German Federal Ministry for Foreign Affairs and the U.S. Department of State.

Generously funded by the German Federal Ministry for Foreign Affairs.

Southeast Europe Foreign Ministers' Conference

The Aspen Institute Germany, Berlin, Germany 2013 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV, Valeska Esch

In cooperation with the German Federal Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Ministries of Foreign Affairs of Serbia, Croatia, Macedonia, Montenegro, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Kosovo, and Albania, the Embassies to the Federal Republic of Germany of the Republics of Austria, Hungary and of the United Kingdom, and the Bavarian State Chancellery.

Generously funded by The German Federal Ministry for Foreign Affairs and the German Marshall Fund of the United States.

Quid Pro Quo

Hannoversche Allgemeine Magazin April 21, 2013 Authors: Ann-Kathrin Seidel, C. K. Mallory IV

Reports on a panel discussion between Mallory, former German BND President August Hanning and Ambassador of the Islamic Republic of Iran (IRI) to the Federal Republic of Germany and former IRI Deputy Foreign Minister Ali Reza Shaykh Attar on the Iranian nuclear program (in German).

Lehre aus Boston: Leben mit politischer Gewalt

[Message of Boston: Learn to Live with Political Violence]

Österreichischer Rundfunk 1 (ORF1) [Austrian National Public Radio - 1st Channel]

April 22, 2013 Authors: Peter Fritz, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview with Peter Fritz of Austrian National Public Radio's first channel in the aftermath of the terrorist attack on the Boston marathon (in German)

Germany and America: Er ist auch ein Berliner [I too am a Berliner]

The Economist June 19, 2013 Authors: Charlemagne, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview on the pending state visit of U.S. President Barack H. Obama to the Federal Republic of Germany.

Obama May Get Different Reception in Berlin Than in '08

USA Today June 19, 2013 Authors: Sumi Somaskanda, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview on the eve of the state visit of U.S. President Barack H. Obama to the Federal Republic of Germany.

Obama hat Deutschland als EU-Schatzmeister im Visier

[Obama is Targeting the EU's Treasurer - Germany]

Der Standard - Austria June 19, 2012 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Interview with Austria's Der Standard on the eve of the state visit of U.S. President Barack H. Obama to the Federal Republic of Germany (in German).

Europe May Act Against U.S. Over Spying

USA Today October 24, 2013 Authors: Jesse Singal, C. K. Mallory IV

Interview on the ramifications of the scandal surrounding the NSA's interception of the cellular phone calls of German Federal Chancellor Angela Merkel.

Options for U.S. Russia Policy After Crimea

March 28, 2014 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

Presents a series of options for reacting to the Russian annexation of Crimea.

Ukraine: Time to Start Thinking About Plan B

February 2, 2015 Authors: C. K. Mallory IV

The West will likely fail to negotiate an acceptable end to the Ukraine crisis. However, with Russia's fundamental war goal of a land corridor to Crimea as yet unattainable, Moscow's liquid reserves likely to run out within about a year and a leader who has escalated after every setback during this fifteen-month crisis, now is not the time for Western military counter-escalation. Instead, the U.S. and its European allies (the "Allies") should acknowledge that short-term striving for a return to the status quo ante is unrealistic and start building the consensus for a united long-term response to Russia's revanchism: a positive joint future vision for the vestiges of Ukraine; openness for reconciliation with Moscow, but only under certain conditions; maintaining and institutionalizing the Kremlin's isolation and sanctions; and an accelerated program to shore up NATO's conventional defenses.

LANGUAGES

English, German, Russian, French, Arabic, Python, C++

HONORS AND AWARDS

Phi Beta Kappa (Jr. Year)

Middlebury College April 1987

Summa Cum Laude

Middlebury College May 1987

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE

Trustee at The Aspen Institute Germany

June 2013 - Present

Honorary member of the board of trustees.

EDUCATION

Pardee RAND Graduate School

PhD Candidate, Public Policy Analysis, 1990 - 1992

Grade: Passed Qualifying Exams

The Johns Hopkins University

Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS)

Master's Program, European Studies, 1990 - 1991

Middlebury College

Bachelor of Arts (BA), Russian Language and Literature, Political Philosophy, 1983 - 1987

Phi Beta Kappa (Junior Year), Summa Cum Laude Activities and Societies: Russian Choir

Westminster School, London, UK

'A' Levels, Mathematics, Physics, German, 1977 - 1982

Activities and Societies: Theater, Rowing (Water)

Packwood Haugh Preparatory School, Ruyton-XI-Towns, Salop, UK

Westminster Entrance, Preparation for Westminster Entrance Exam, 1973 - 1977

Activities and Societies: Cross-Country Team, Rugby Team, Rifle Club

Gorch Fock Volksschule, Blankenese, Hamburg, Federal Republic of Germany

Zeugnis, German language; primary school, 1970 - 1972

INTERESTS

Skiing, hiking, swimming

CERTIFICATIONS

Certified Manager of Unit Investment Funds

Federal Service for Financial Markets 1992