S.1. Methodological Underpinnings of Study ....................... xviii
S.2. Section of Product–Market Observables Rating Sheet ........ xxiii
1.1. Methodological Underpinnings of the Study ................... 4
2.1. World Population Rankings ................................. 14
2.2. NAVSEA Influences, Warrants, and Mandates ................. 41
3.1. Traditional Navy Warfare Areas ............................. 61
3.2. Side-by-Side View of Warfare/Support Missions and NAVSEA Markets, for Comparison ......................... 64
3.3. NAVSEA Markets and Their Acronyms ......................... 67
3.4. NAVSEA Primary Customers ................................. 68
3.5. NAVSEA Products for 2007, Ordered by Product Group ....... 78
3.6. Initial Product-Rating System ................................ 86
3.7. Section of Product–Market Observables Rating Sheet ........ 93
3.8. Processes Used in Rating NAVSEA Products ................. 103
3.10. Binning Thresholds for Scoring of Process Change in Products ................................................. 106
3.11. Commercially Available NAVSEA Products .................. 110
3.12. Portfolio-Central Products and Associated Product Groups ... 115
4.1. Summary Description of Business Units ....................... 164
A.1. NAVSEA Project Visits and Briefings ......................... 184
B.1. OPNAV Instructions .......................................... 193
B.2. SECNAV Instructions ................................................. 195
C.1. Normalization of Scores for the Case of 10 Strategy Drivers
Weighted at 1.5 Times the Other Drivers ............................. 205
C.2. Normalization of Scores for Four Strategy Drivers Weighted at 1.5 Times the Other Drivers, for Comparison with Table C.1 ........................................................................... 207
C.3. RAND Process Code .................................................. 218
C.4. NAVSEA Technologies .............................................. 223
C.5. Most-Staffed NAVSEA Job Titles Under 15 RAND
Occupational Clusters ......................................................... 226
C.6. NAVSEA Facilities ...................................................... 228
C.7. Section of Product–Market Observables Rating Sheet ......... 232
C.9. Very High Relative Importance Technologies ................. 239
C.10. Portion of Product-Facility Rating Sheet ......................... 246
C.11. Very High Facility-Use and Zero Facility-Use Products .... 249
C.12. Very High and Zero Relative Importance Facilities .......... 252
C.13. Job Title Relative Importance for the Top Five Direct-Labor
Occupational Clusters ......................................................... 260
C.14. Job Title Relative Importance for the Top Five Indirect-
Labor Occupational Clusters .............................................. 261