

U.S. Department of Defense

Getting To Outcomes Onboarding Roadmap

This road map will help you get up to speed using GTO to improve your sexual assault prevention programs.

BASICS

New to GTO?

- Read the streamlined GTO Handbook
- Quick way to learn the GTO model
 - Access GTO worksheets that can help you implement prevention programs and create metrics for evaluating them later
 - Created specifically for DoD

www.rand.org/t/TLA746-2

This series of three videos provides an overview of the GTO process.

www.rand.org/pubs/presentations/PTA746-1

LEARN MORE

How can I learn more?

- See the full GTO Operations Guide.
- More detailed than the handbook
 - Full suite of GTO tools
 - The landing page has a tool to help analyze pre-post evaluation data
 - Created specifically for DoD

<https://www.rand.org/pubs/tools/TLA746-1.html>

A “Content Area Module”—originally created for the U.S. Air Force but relevant DoD-wide—has more detailed information on sexual harassment. Guidance includes evidence-based prevention practices, evaluation metrics, resources, and examples of completed tools.

<https://www.rand.org/pubs/tools/TL311z3.html>

This series of videos about how to create a comprehensive prevention plan based on GTO could also be useful. The videos were created to help U.S. Air Force installations plan for implementation and evaluation of their Community Action Plans for prevention programs.

www.rand.org/gto-overview
www.rand.org/gto-steps1-6
www.rand.org/gto-steps7-10
www.rand.org/gto-cap1
www.rand.org/gto-cap2

HELP

Where can I get help?

Learn more
www.sapr.mil/sapr-source

Get Help
dodhra.mc-alex.dhra-hq.mbx.sapro-prevention@mail.mil

GTO is a 10-step process, developed by researchers at the RAND Corporation for planning, implementing, and evaluating prevention programs

Getting To Outcomes® for the Department of Defense www.rand.org/Getting-to-Outcomes